Baker Roofing proposes to include material, labor, tools and equipment to furnish and install a new 3070 door frame and new 3070 door kit. Framing material will be 14 gauge red ox Cee Channel. The new 3070 door will be a right hand outswing (Door will swing towards the exterior side of the building, opening towards the HVAC condensing unit.) The new 3070 door kit will have tempered insulated glass (24"x30") secured with wire mesh. There will be a lever handle on the exterior side of the door and a push bar on the interior side. The door will come with a heavy duty automatic closure, weather stripping and threshold. The door will also be equipped with a 'night latch.' Which means the door will always require a key from the exterior, regardless of how the door was last used. Key access from the exterior every time.	$5,391.15
